WORDS FROM THE PRINCIPAL

By: Parul Singh

Dear parents,

Here we are with another addition of monthly newsletter. As the regular classes have started and students are coming back to the school, I would like to make an appeal that whatever efforts you have shown during online classes in corona pandemic, continue it now also.

Education is not only the bond between a teacher and a student. The role of parents is more important in shaping up their character. Parental encouragement had played a crucial role in successful students. Following are a few suggestions that how parents can support their child's education:

Attendance= Good school attendance is important to academic achievement.

Support= Children need their parents' help, support, and encouragement therefore parents must show interest in the little or the smallest achievement of their child.

Role model= The parent needs to be a positive role model for the child in helping to build the child's attitude about learning.

Communication= Parents need to keep in touch with their child's school and have good communication with their teachers.

READ, READ, READ= One of the most important things that parents can do for their child's education is to read to their child or have their child read to them. It is also important for children to see their parent's reading.

From this month we are going to add a new page which will cater the information about our glorious past and radiant history named "Cherish our history and culture".

I assured you that you will find the newsletter very informative and interesting.

At last, it's a humble request to all the parents that together only we can provide a better education sphere to our children.

With best regards

A STORY FROM GANDHI'S LIFE

By: Avishi Singhal , 7th A

Once upon a time,

a Sanyasi(monk) came to the Sabarmati ashram of Gujarat and he told Bapu that "He likes the atmosphere of the ashram and wants to live and work at the ashram".

Gandhiji said that 'Of course you can stay and work here but you will have to put away your saffron robes and dress up like the other people at ashram".But the monk objected and said "I am Sanyasi and can't do this at all.

At this Gandhiji said that Sanyas is a state of mind, the dress is nothing in this". And explained "If you wear your ochre robes here people will not allow you to do work out of respect for your robes instead, they will serve you and that would be contrary to the principles of his ashram. He said We are here to serve not to be served".The swami thought the matter over and decided to join the ashram. The man spent several days in the ashram before succumbing to the disease.

WOMEN EMPOWERMENT IN INDIA

By: Aayush Saini , 9th A

The famous mythological tale of Devi Durga vs the tormentor Mahishasur goes something like this. There was once a vicious young demon named Mahishasur who wanted nothing more than to become immortal and be the supreme power across earth and heaven. He prayed relentlessly to the Gods, and seeing his dedication, Lord Bramha appeared and granted him one wish. The cunning demon Mahishasur asked that he be made the most powerful creature on the planet, rendering him invincible by any man or God! Bramha unsuspectingly granted him his wish. Shortly after, Mahishasur gained immense strength and powers and began to misuse his superiority by wreaking havoc across the earth.

He even dislodged most Gods from their heavenly abodes, leaving them to scurrying to Bramha for help. An urgent meeting between Bramha, Vishnu, and Mahesh saw them create Goddess Durga in order to take on and vanquish Mahishasur. Many Gods came together and bestowed a slew of powers and weapons upon Durga. Shiva gave her a Trishul, the God of the Himalayas gave her a Lion to ride on, and so forth. Durga became like a one-person army, endowed with multiple special skills, making her the only match for Mahishasur. Armed with all these powers, Durga descended from the heavens, and after a long and arduous ten-day battle, beheaded Mahishasur, restoring peace and order. It took a woman of many tales and powers to triumph over evil. This story from our own mythology is of particular significance simply because it reminds us as a society, of the boundless vigor and tenacity of a woman, provided she is able to develop and hone her skills. It is the former aspect of the aforementioned statement that is especially relevant today, that a woman whose skills and powers are developed and nurtured, is an unstoppable force. THIS is what we need to draw and learn from Durga's story and apply it to society. Not only does Goddess Durga serve as an icon for empowering women, but her life also presents many lessons from which we can learn, particularly with reference to women in society today

THE UNSUNG HEROINE: LAKSHMI SAHGAL

By: Anamika Sharma , 10th A

Lakshmi Sahgal was one of the Indian freedom fighters who fought against the British Empire in India and considerably contributed to the Indian freedom struggle. She was among the prominent officers of the Indian National Army under the leadership of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose. Lakshmi Sahgal was also the Minister of Women's Affairs in the Azad Hind government. She held the rank of Captain in the Indian National Army (INA) at the time of her imprisonment in Burma. Thus she was referred to as Captain Lakshmi in India.

Early Life of Lakshmi Sahgal

Lakshmi Sahgal was born as Lakshmi Swaminathanin on 24th October 1914, in Madras (Chennai), Madras Presidency under British India. Dr. S. Swaminathan, her father, was a lawyer who practiced criminal law at Madras High Court. Her mother Ammu Swaminathan or A.V. Ammukutty was an independence activist and a social worker who belonged to the Vadakkath family of Anakkara in Palghat, Kerala

Lakshmi Sahgal in Indian National Army:

During the surrender of Singapore to the Japanese by the British Empire in the year 1942, Lakshmi Sahgal helped and supported injured prisoners of war. Most of these soldiers were motivated to establish an Indian liberation army. Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, one of the most renowned Indian independence activists, went to Singapore on July 2, 1943. He was focused on setting up a women's regiment that would fight for Indian freedom against the British rule. Inspired by him, Lakshmi Sahgal joined the new division, which was known as the Rani of Jhansi Regiment. She was appointed at the rank of Colonel in the women's army unit, which was perhaps the first of its kind in entire Asia. The regiment fought on the side of the Axis powers against the British Colonial forces.

NATIONAL UNION DAY

By: Prakhar Bansal , 12th Commerce

National Unity Day in India is observed every year on 31st October. The day seeks to promote nationalism and a feeling of unity among Indian citizens. The day was first celebrated in 2014 and is observed on the birth anniversary of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel. Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, born on 31st October 1875, was a freedom fighter who became the first Deputy Prime Minister and the Home Minister of India, after independence. Working in his capacity as the Home Minister of India, he was instrumental in agreeing 565 princely states to join to the union of India. He wasn't willing to compromise India's political unity and rubbished the idea of independent states within the union. Due to the steely will, he was also called "the iron man of India". When Narendra Modi was serving as the Chief Minister of Gujarat, he flagged off a project to construct a 182-meter statue of Sardar Patel. Subsequently, when he became the Prime Minister, the Home Ministry issued orders for celebrating National Unity day in 2014.

The day should be observed on the birth anniversary of Sardar Patel on 31st October. National Unity Day is observed throughout the nation with exceptional zeal and enthusiasm. Everywhere people pay tribute to the 'Iron man of India' and remember his contribution to a politically integrated India. The day also holds special significance for the Indian Administrative Services as Sardar Patel was the man who introduced the "modern all India services system", formerly known as Indian Civil Services. Officers of the Indian Administrative Services, gather in state Secretariats and other relevant locations, to pay their respect to the man remembered as the 'patron saint of India's civil servants.

Significance

Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel was the first Deputy Prime Minister and Home Minister of India. He was the brain behind the political integration of India. Celebrating his birthday as World Unity Day serves two significant purposes – firstly it is a befitting tribute to Sardar Patel the Iron man of India and secondly, it reminds us of our integration and unity. It makes our resolve for a unified India stronger.

Conclusion

Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel's birthday is an occasion to remember his efforts for a united India and to honor his will and vision. He not only was a great freedom fighter but also a great administrator who oversaw the division of India-Pakistan and also the political integration of India.

DID YOU KNOW ARYABHATA?

By: Sarthak Yadav , 8th B

Aryabhata wanted a concise way to store ( not calculate with ) large numbers and hit on a strange scheme. If we had not yet our positional notation, where the 8 in 9,871 means 800 because it stands in the hundreds place, we might have Come up writing it this way: 9T8H7Te1, when T stands for 'thousand'. H stands for 'hundred'. And Te stands for 'ten'. ( In fact, this is how we usually pronounce our numbers, and how monetary amounts have been expressed: (E3.4s 2d). ARYABHATA did something of this sort, only one degree more abstracts.
